BRADLEY'S CURRENCY PLATFORM.

"I am opposed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver, believing it would do all national property. The gold dollar is the best dollar, and I am in favor of making every other dollar equivalent to it in value. I am the friend of silver, and believe it can be best protected by holding its basis in such bounds as will insure its parity with gold as a circulating medium."

W. O. BRADLEY

We never knew until last week how men could be leaders of a party. We know now. They wait to see which way the procession is going and then fall in line in front—liskand Republicans.

Right, Brother HUFF; but even then some of the "leaders" mistake the proper procession—or jump into the wrong "band-wagon," as the boys put it.

The Senate disposed of the sectarian school question by adopting a compromise framed by Senator COCKRELL of Missouri. The Indian Bill, as it came from the House, provided that "no money herein appropriated shall be paid for education in sectarian schools." This provision is struck out by the COCKRELL amendment as adopted, and it is declared to be the settled policy of the Government to make no appropriations for sectarian schools after July 1st, 1868, thus giving two years for the abandonment of sectarian schools, instead of an immediate abandonment. The amendment was adopted by the decisive vote of 38 to 23.

"In 1864," says the report of the Senate Committee, "the wages of labor paid in depreciated paper dollars worth 40 cents each, had advanced 25 per cent., but the prices of the necessities of life had advanced 90 per cent." Let us put this into concrete form. Never mind the odd 1 per cent. Let us take the even figures, says the Commercial Gazette, and see how the thing works out.

A man got for a day's labor before the War—and it was a long day's labor—in the field, $1 a day. In 1864 his wages had increased to $1.25. Meantime the butter he bought had gone up from 20 cents to 35 cents; the milk from 4 cents to 7; the eggs from 10 cents to 19; the beef from 15 cents to 22 cents; the sheep from $2 to $4; the clothes from $10 to $19.

A man who was living on a salary of $1,000 had his salary increased to $1,250, and instead of saving anything by the increase he found that his expenses had gone up from $1,000 to $1,300. He was worse off than he was before.

In 1860 the price of board ranged in New Haven from $3.75 to $3.50 per SOMERVILLE, Ky., April 24.—About daylight Thursday morning two miles west of Somerville Mint Wood attempted to kill his brother, Thomas Wood, aged 19 years, by shooting him in the head, and then driving him on the head with a stone, dressing hammer, crushing his skull. The would-be murderer was arrested. It is alleged that he is scarcely responsible, having recently recovered from a severe attack of typhoid fever, which unbalanced his mind. The victim is likely to die.

COUNTY ASSESSMENT.

FRANKFORT, Ky., April 24.—The board of equalization passed on the assessments of the following counties during the past month to show that the state raised 8 per cent.; Robertson, Scott, Linn, etc., raised 10 per cent.; lots also changed. Scott, Linn, etc., raised 4 per cent.; lots raised 1 per cent.; Rockcastle, Rowan and Russell counties were left unchanged.

It is alleged that he is scarcely responsible, having recently recovered from a severe attack of typhoid fever, which unbalanced his mind. The victim is likely to die.

REV. E. B. CAKE.

Synopsis of One of His Recent Eloquent Sermons.

PREACHED AT DECATUR, ILL.

Tells of the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man.

AND THE COMING CHURCH

Decatur (Ill.) Herald-Democrat.

Rev. Erastus B. Cake preached at the Opera house Sunday afternoon to a large and representative audience.

His effort was a scholarly, logical and eloquent plea for the coming Church, based not on unity of faith, but on unity of purpose. He unfolded the theme that Jesus's conflict with the Jewish doctors was their unwillingness to let him to re-read or re-state the religious problem in the terms of life, and not in the terms of theology or speculation. He said in part:

"Great is the name of the fatherhood of God, but greater is the brotherhood of humanity from which wider and sweeter things are coming to this race of ours. I will quote from the great prophet, 'I am come not to destroy, but to fulfill.' The time is upon us when the liberty that belongs to us is asserting itself. Did you ever catch the full significance of this utterance? Is it not true of every past age that his prophecies have been fulfilled, and that we will go on to more larger and more beautiful things. The race is that which is possible from the seed. Thus in the material universe we find this marvelous truth explained, and must man give voice to that which is in him. We may not catch the first glance of the rising sun, yet we may look to its genial rays. Ages that come after will gather these richer things up. It is but the moving of the omnipotent spirit that sad in the beginning. Let there be light." These are some of the prophecies we greet on the threshold of the twentieth century.

There was a mighty conflict in the life of Jesus around whom the doctors of divinity arranged themselves. It grew out of his own integrity. He came to read religion to the world and to read the problem of religion. Are we surprised at this conflict? Ages since we said we do not want it re-read. We have read it once and we are satisfied. He was upon, bodily treated and finally driven to a horrible death. Was God mad at the child he had created? Can it be possible that God was mad and that his anger had to be appeased? It is untrue in the abstract and concrete. I have listened and heard God has caught a soul. I have heard, God is love, only love. It must be read and re-read to humanity that God is love. This is the simple lesson that the prophet came to teach the world. It was because that he dared to stand that he suffered. Everything that entered into religion must be re-interpreted. You cannot rise to a definition of the absolute. We have passed beyond the belief that we have a God who would destroy his own children to approve his anger. This was simply a human opinion. Let me say with a deliberation of thought that these old opinions which are fastened upon us as faith must pass away.

"Nature was the first bosom upon which humanity over overflowed its head, and nature was all ablaze when the first child's eye looked out upon it. Nature said: 'I know me.' There is a disposition on the part of finished religion-theory to try and make us say end believe the old Jewish conceptions regarding Jesus Christ. This is one strong tendency of religion, this making believe in speculations, and as a consequence there is no place for growth or enlargement. God has been speaking thousands of years through the phenomena of nature, yet no one ever heard

God speak. He speaks through the elements on the terms of theology, but in terms of life. This is coming about in our civilization and it must be ready for. All churches are for one purpose in life, for the same thing. Their basis is a common purpose, not creeds.

"The Church that is coming will have a door that will admit all, and with a dome that will allow every man to expand to the limit of his possibilities, and a floor for every truth. Then will peace spread her wing over humanity. There are many who are unable to accept the dogmas of the Christian religion; these are the ones we call unchurched. The man who works most for humanity is doing most for God. Desist from dealing in futures from whence no messenger has ever come. How much more good can there be accomplished for the one thing that animates humanity."
